A diagram of a triangular sail patch. A central point is labeled '76' in a blue circle. Several blue lines radiate from this point to various points along the top and right edges of the patch. The right edge is labeled '73' in a blue circle. A red line with cross-ticks runs diagonally across the patch from the bottom-left towards the top-right.

A close-up photograph showing a hand using a needle and thread to stitch the top edge of the sail patch. The patch has a red line with cross-ticks running diagonally across it.

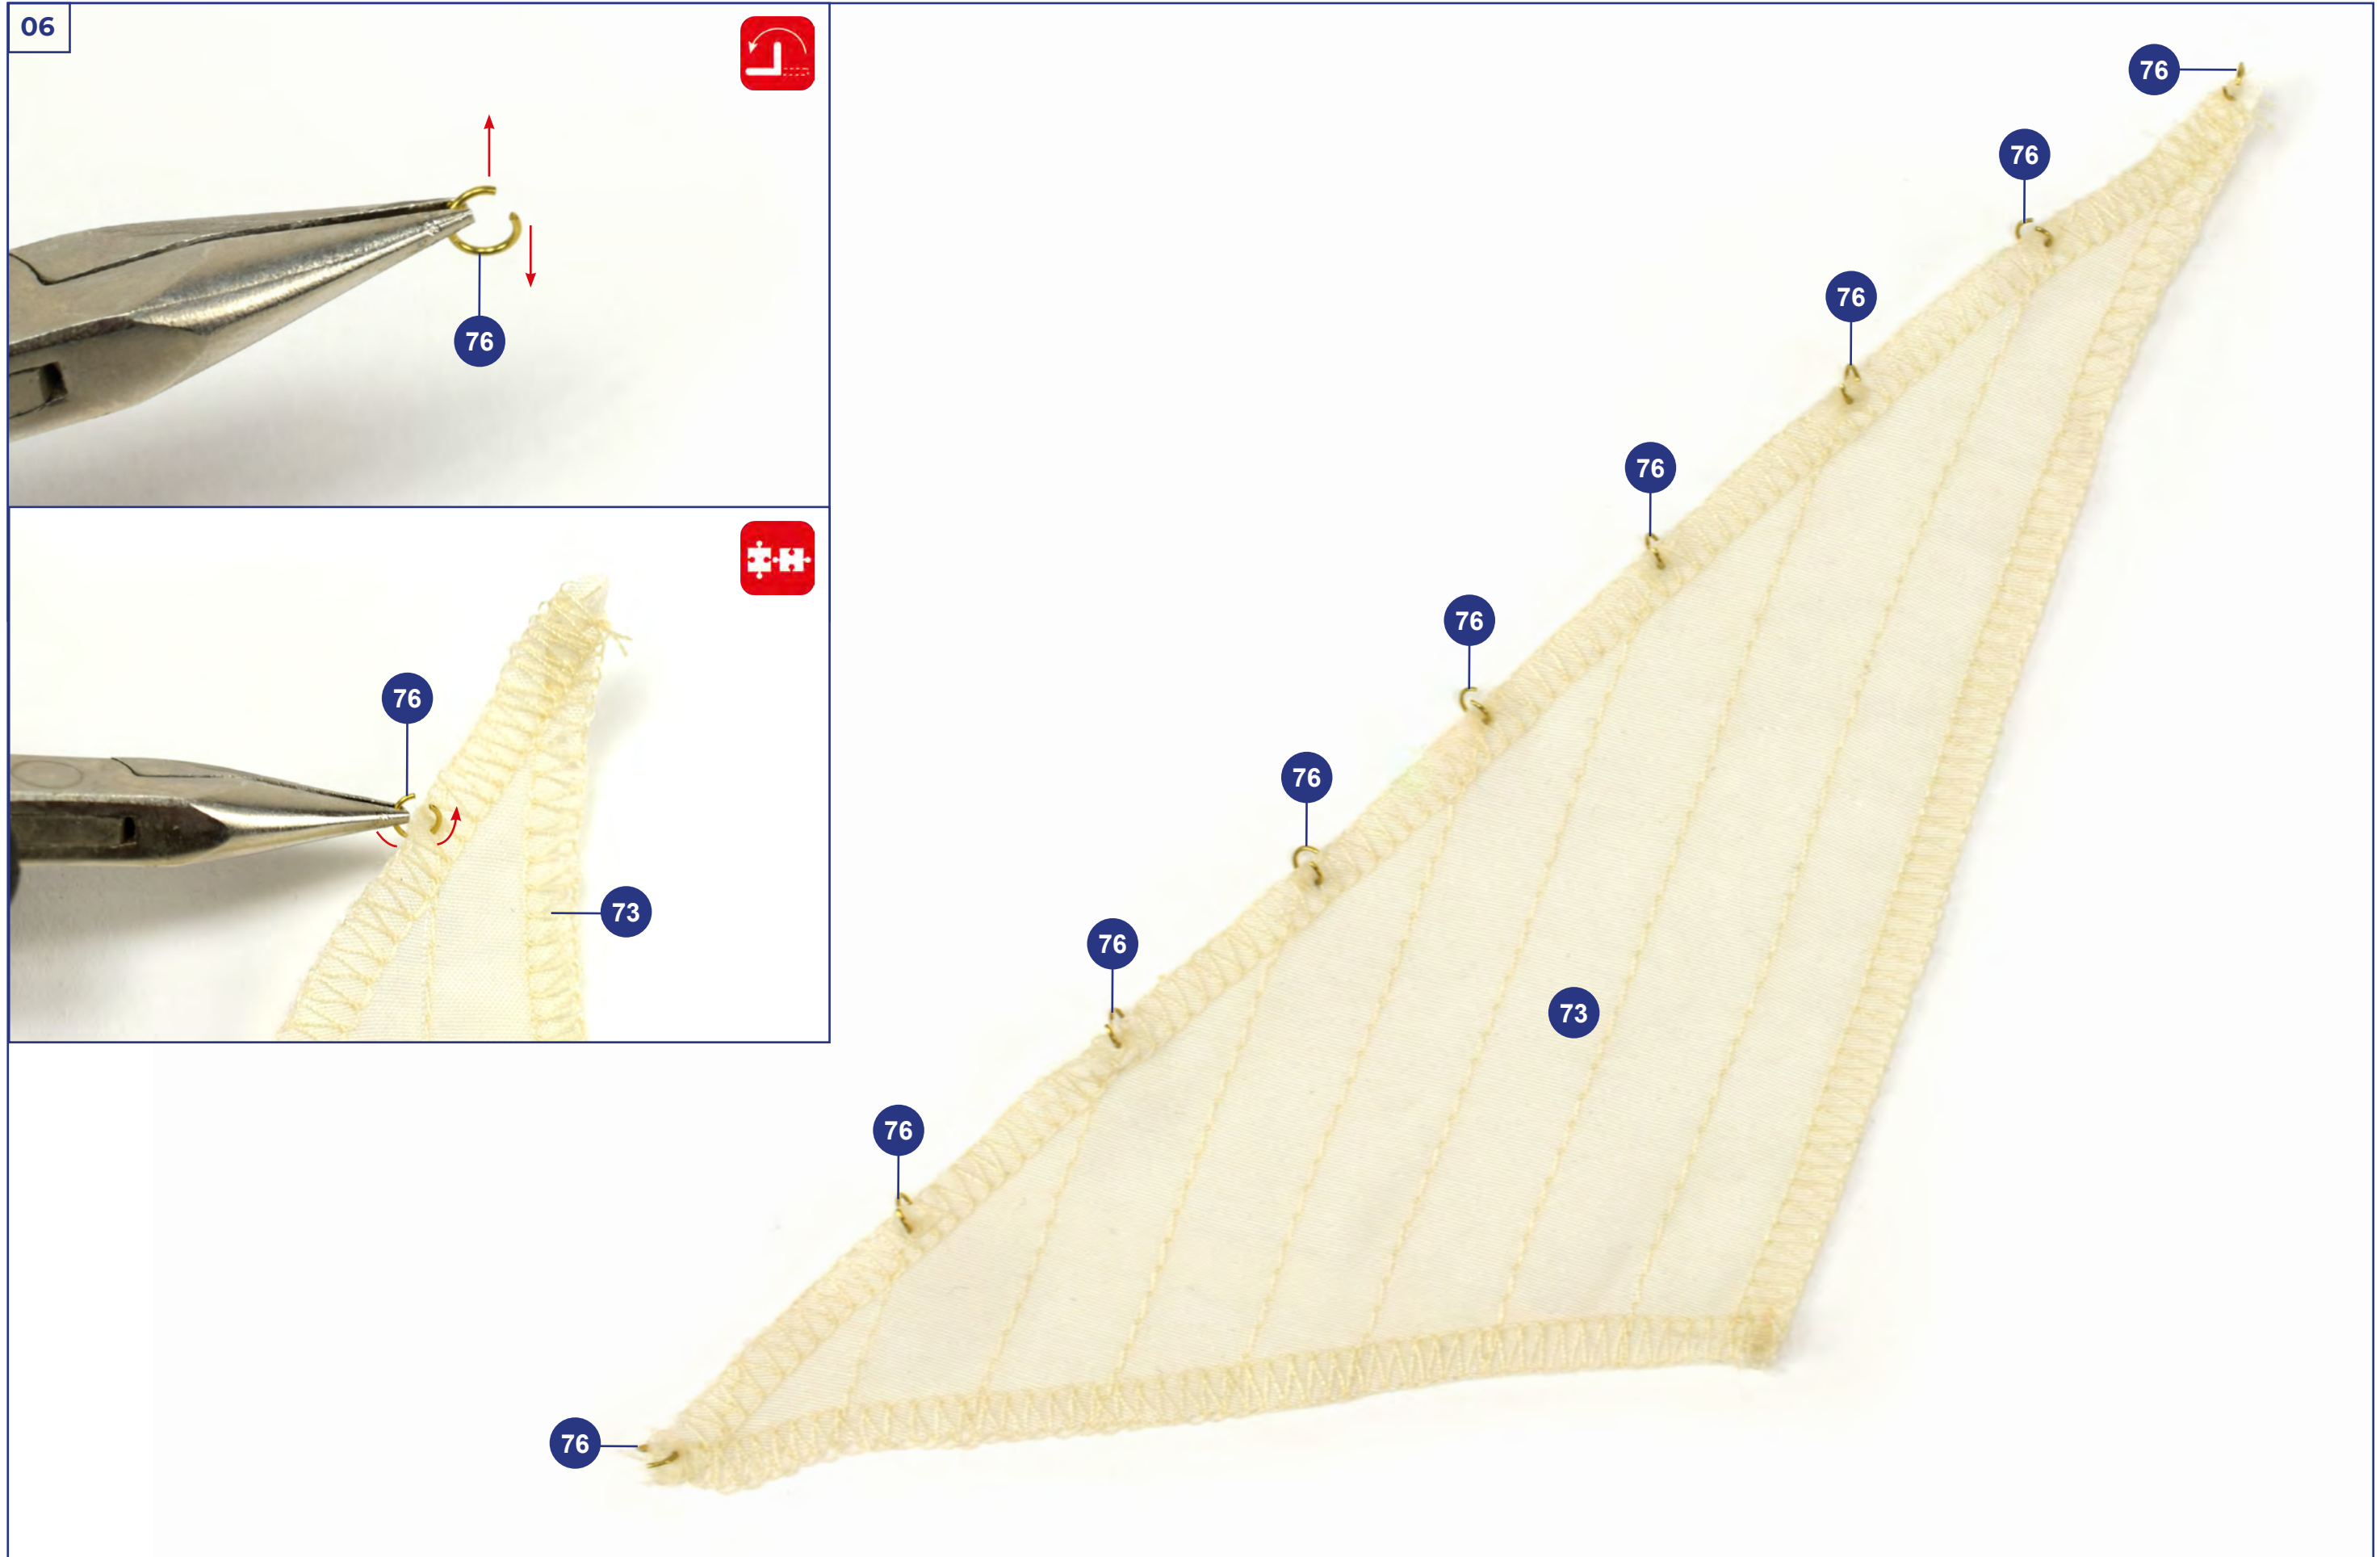

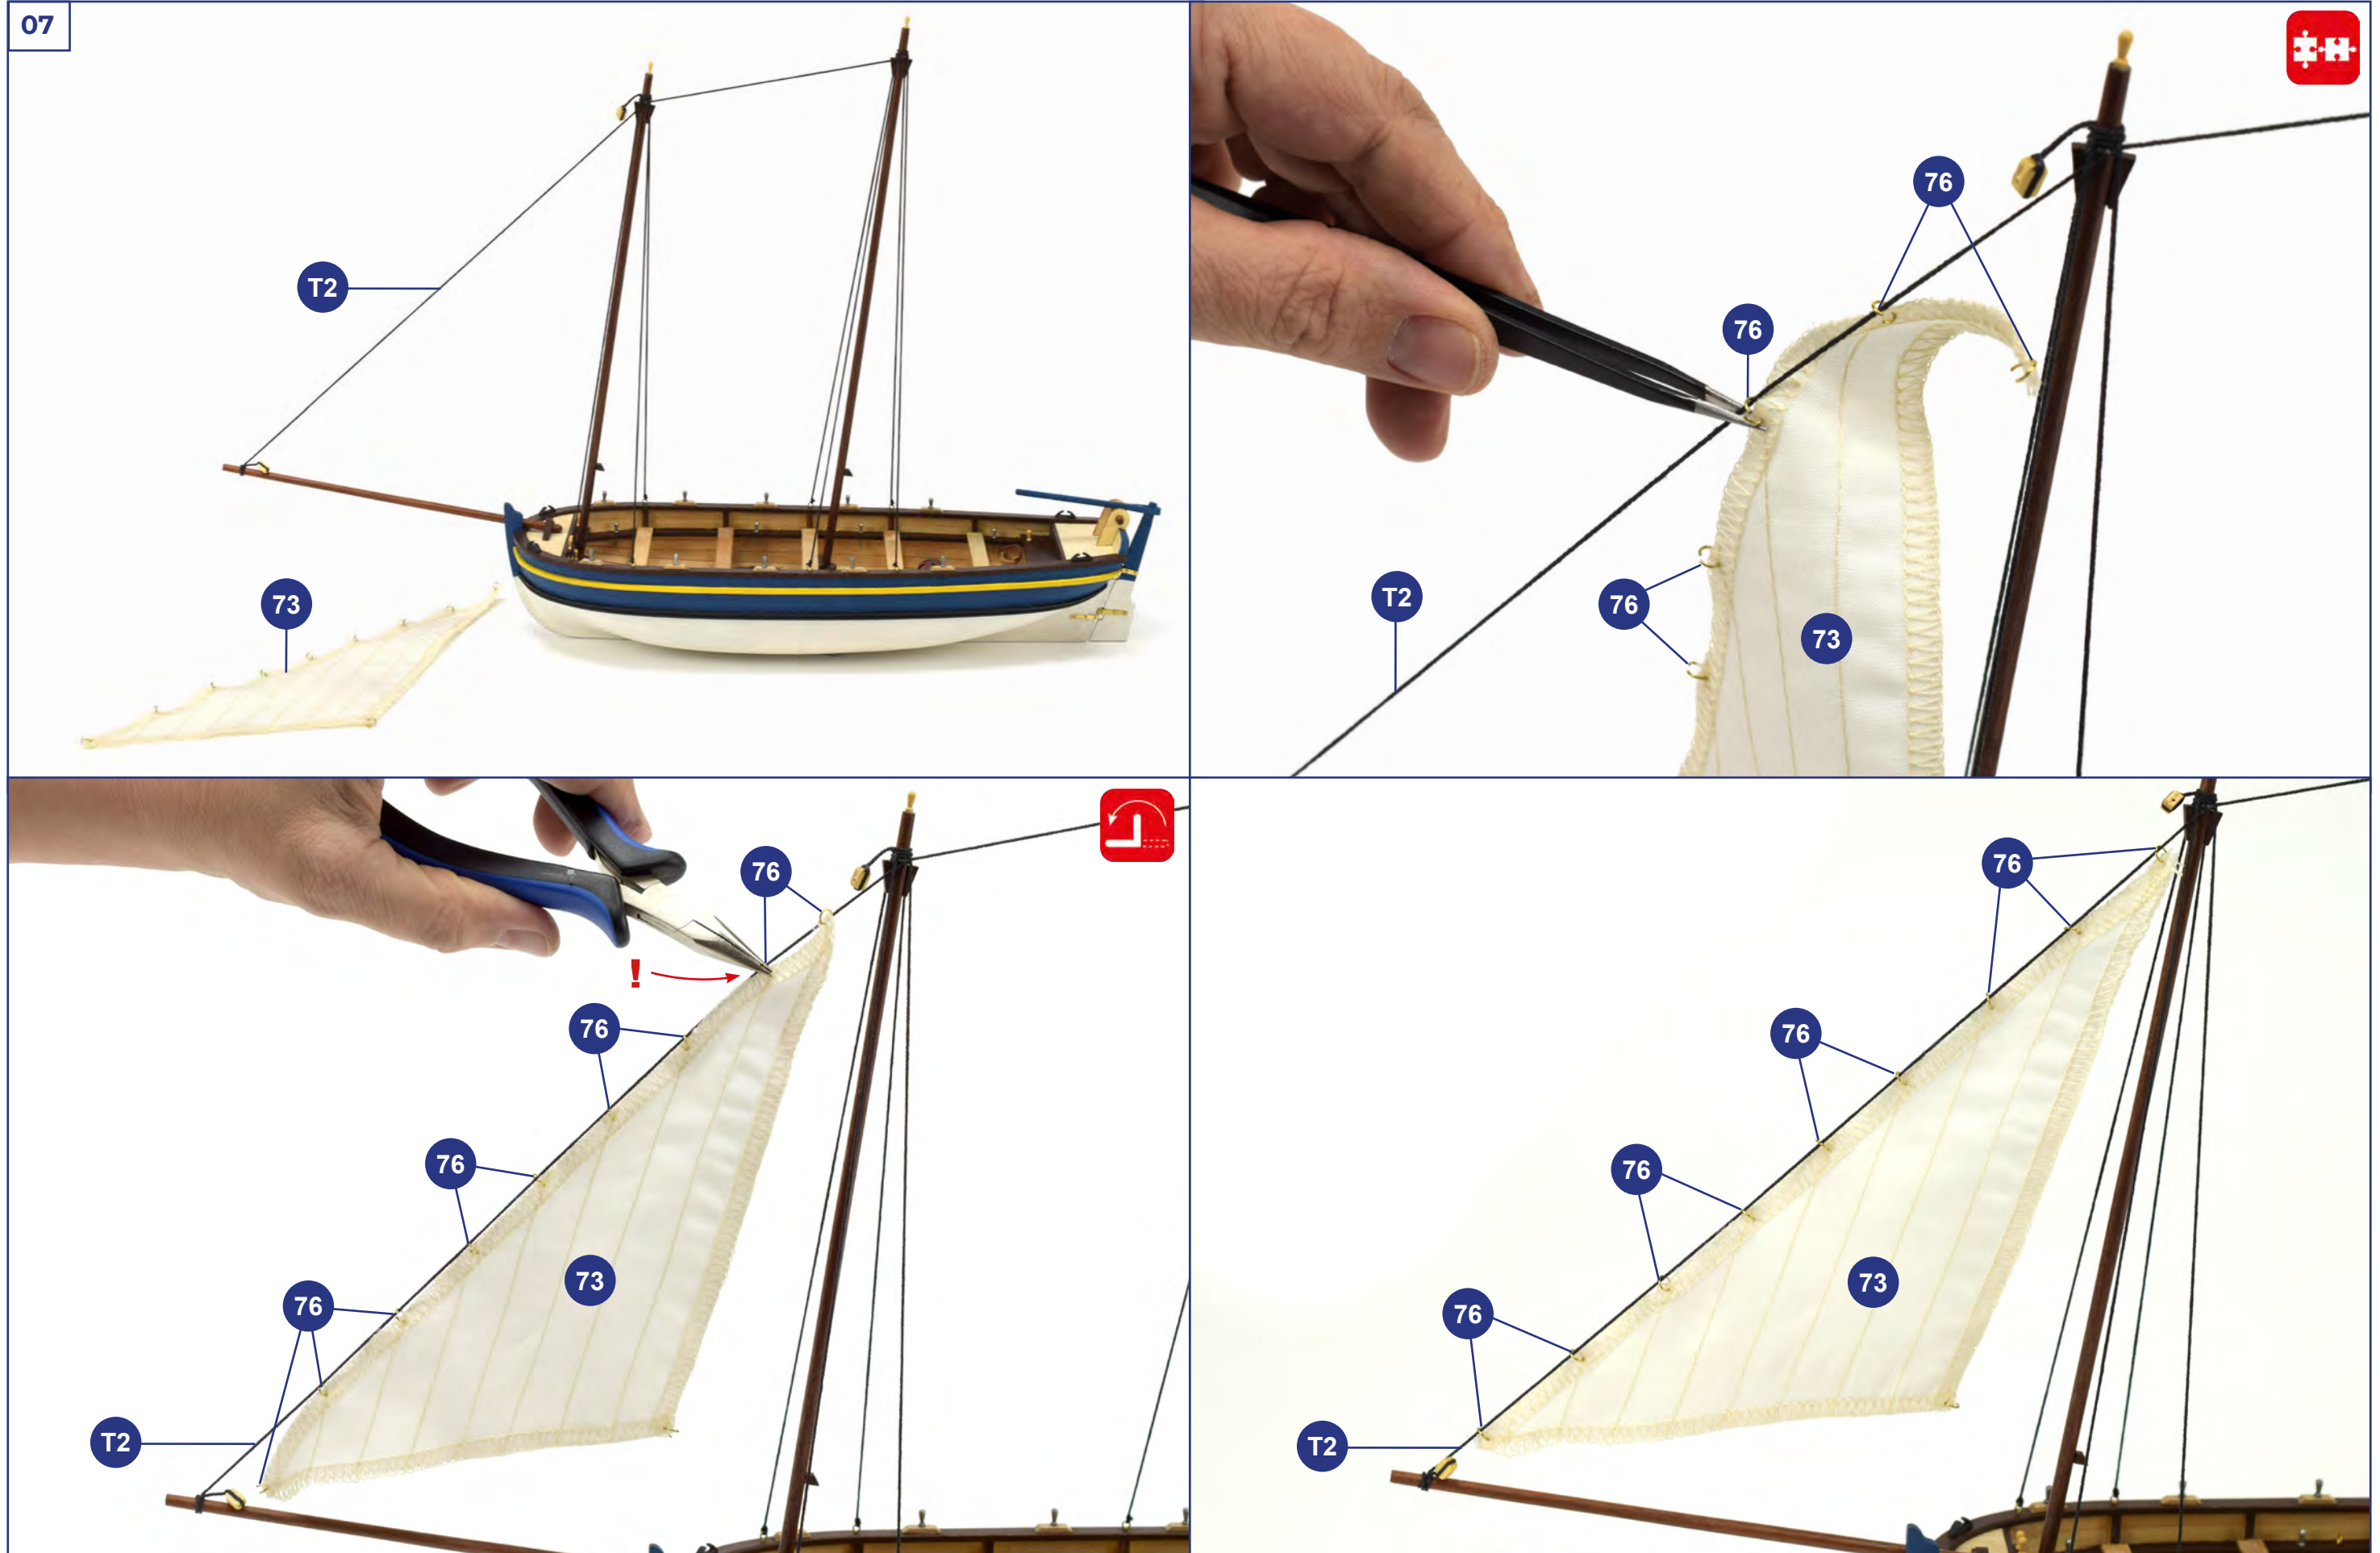

A close-up photograph showing a hand using a white glue bottle to apply adhesive to the top edge of the sail patch. The patch has a red line with cross-ticks running diagonally across it. The right edge is labeled '73' in a blue circle.

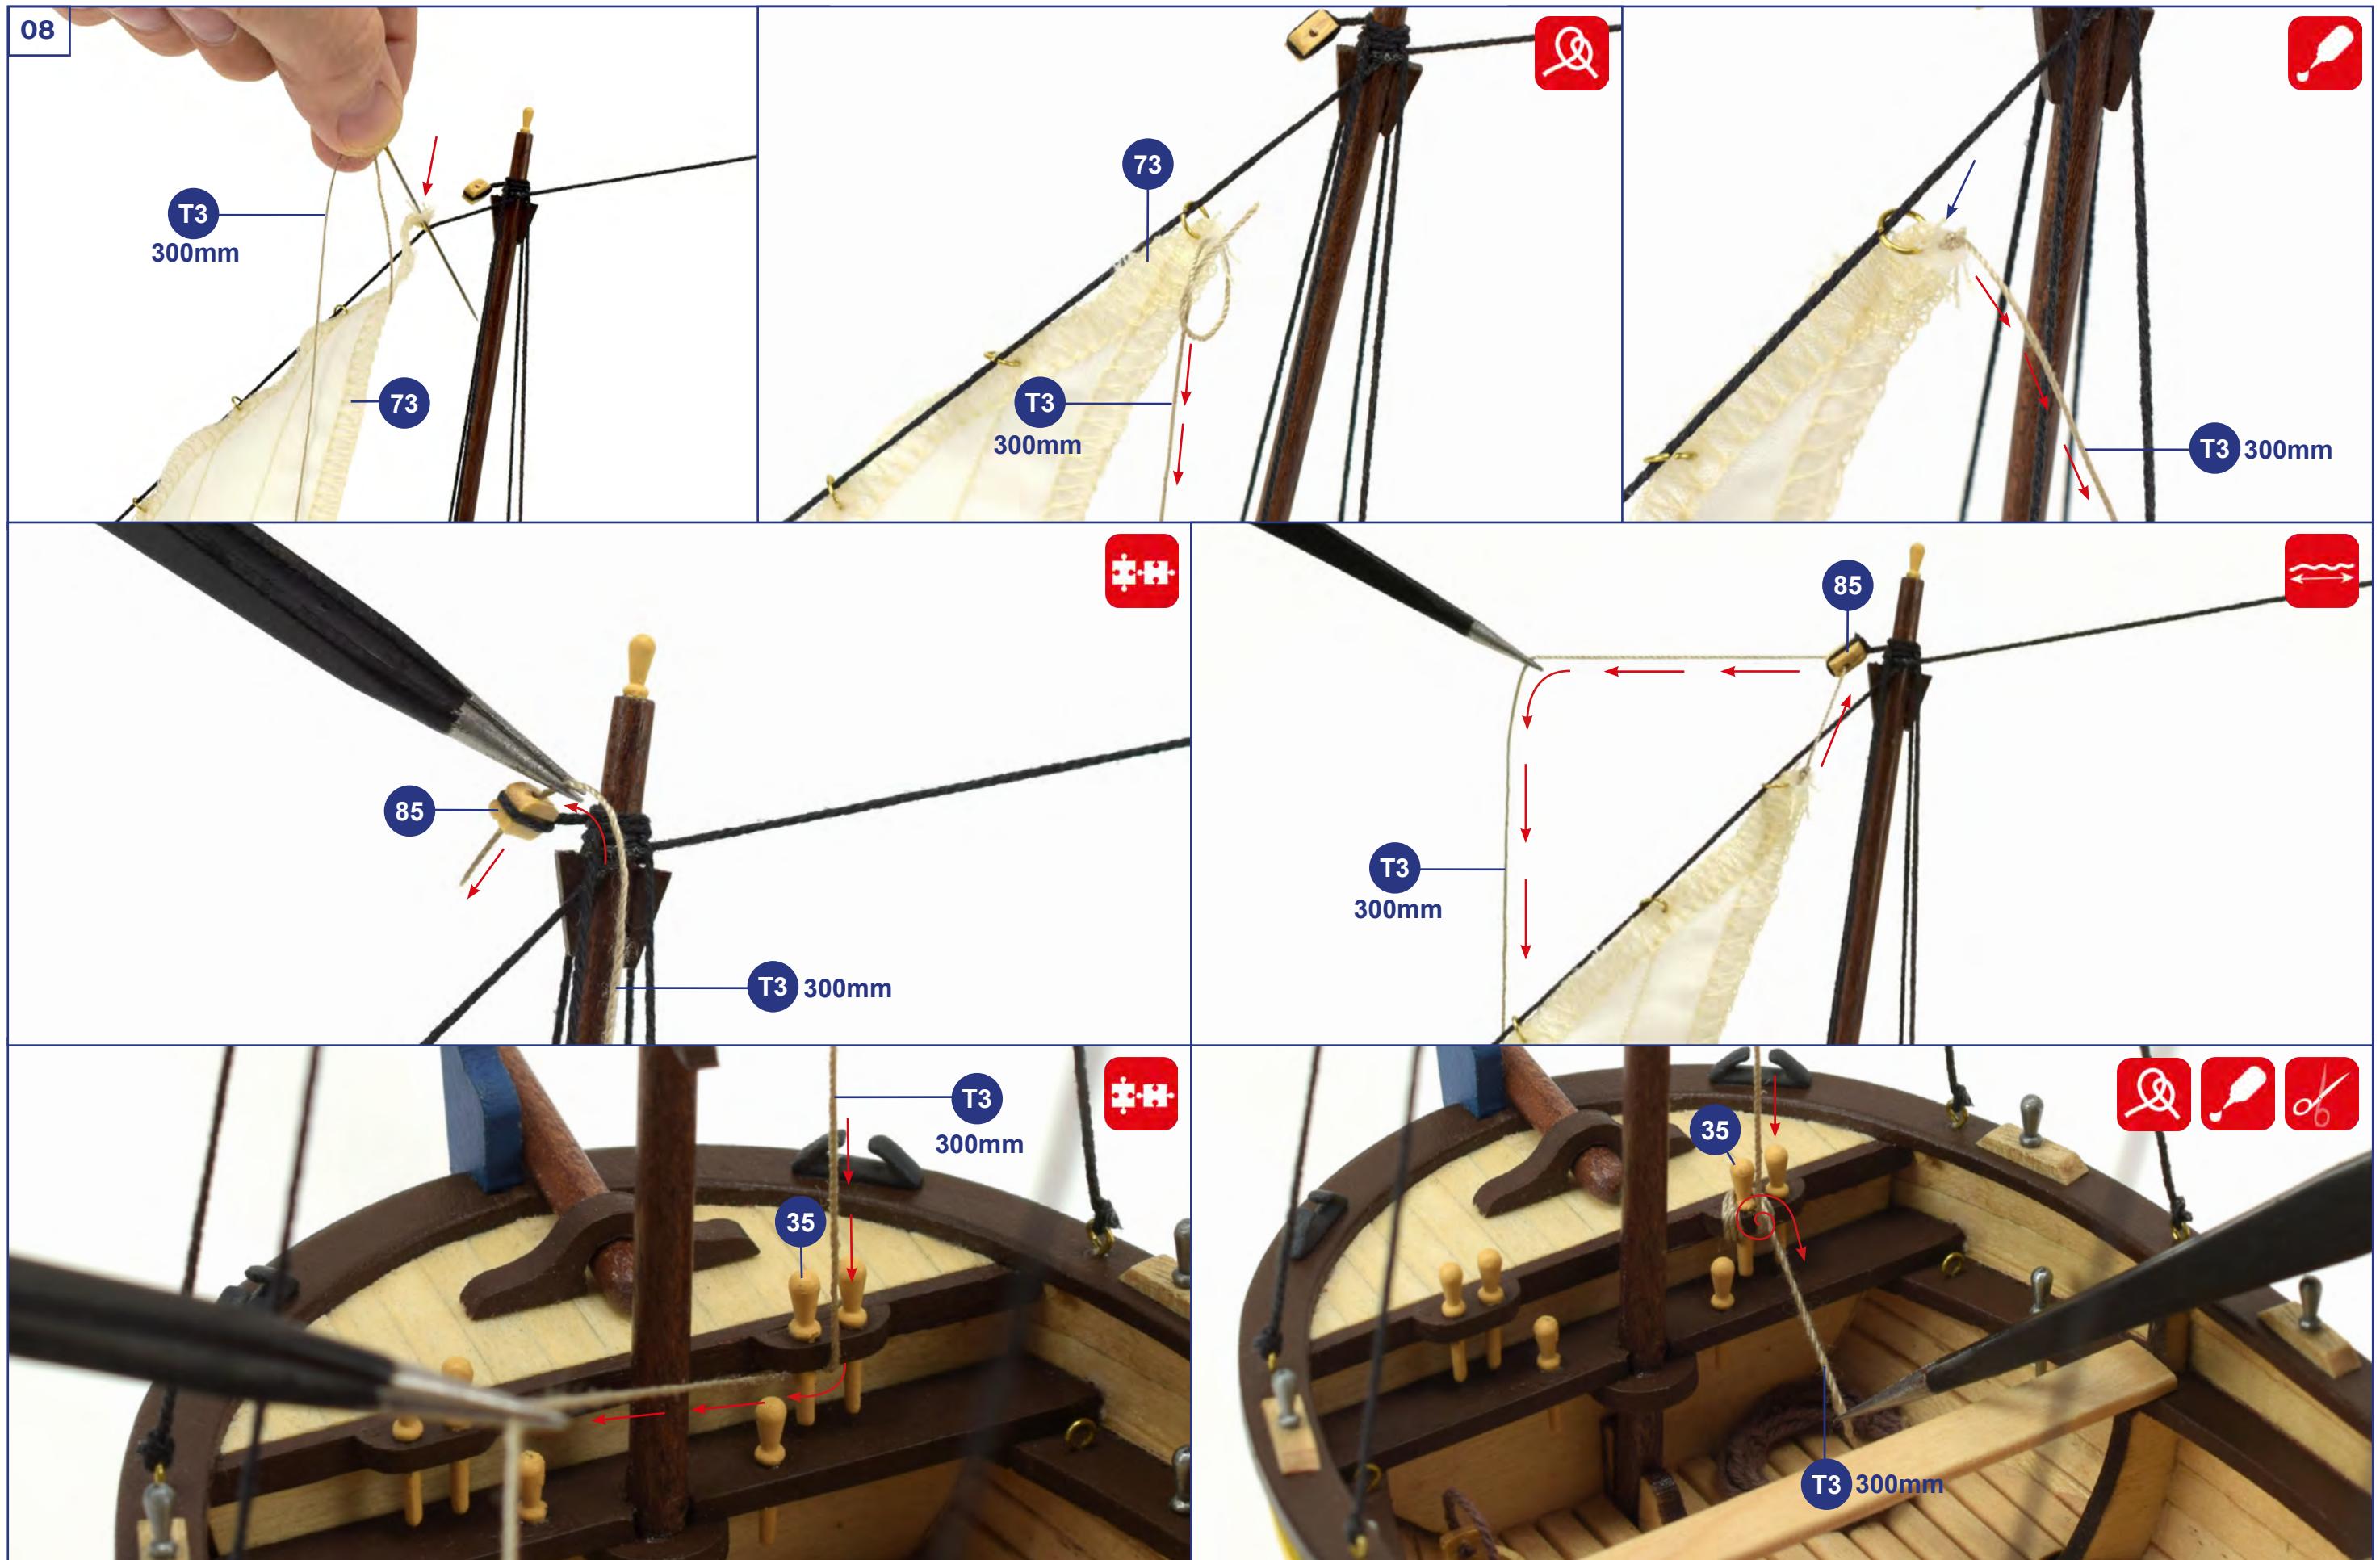

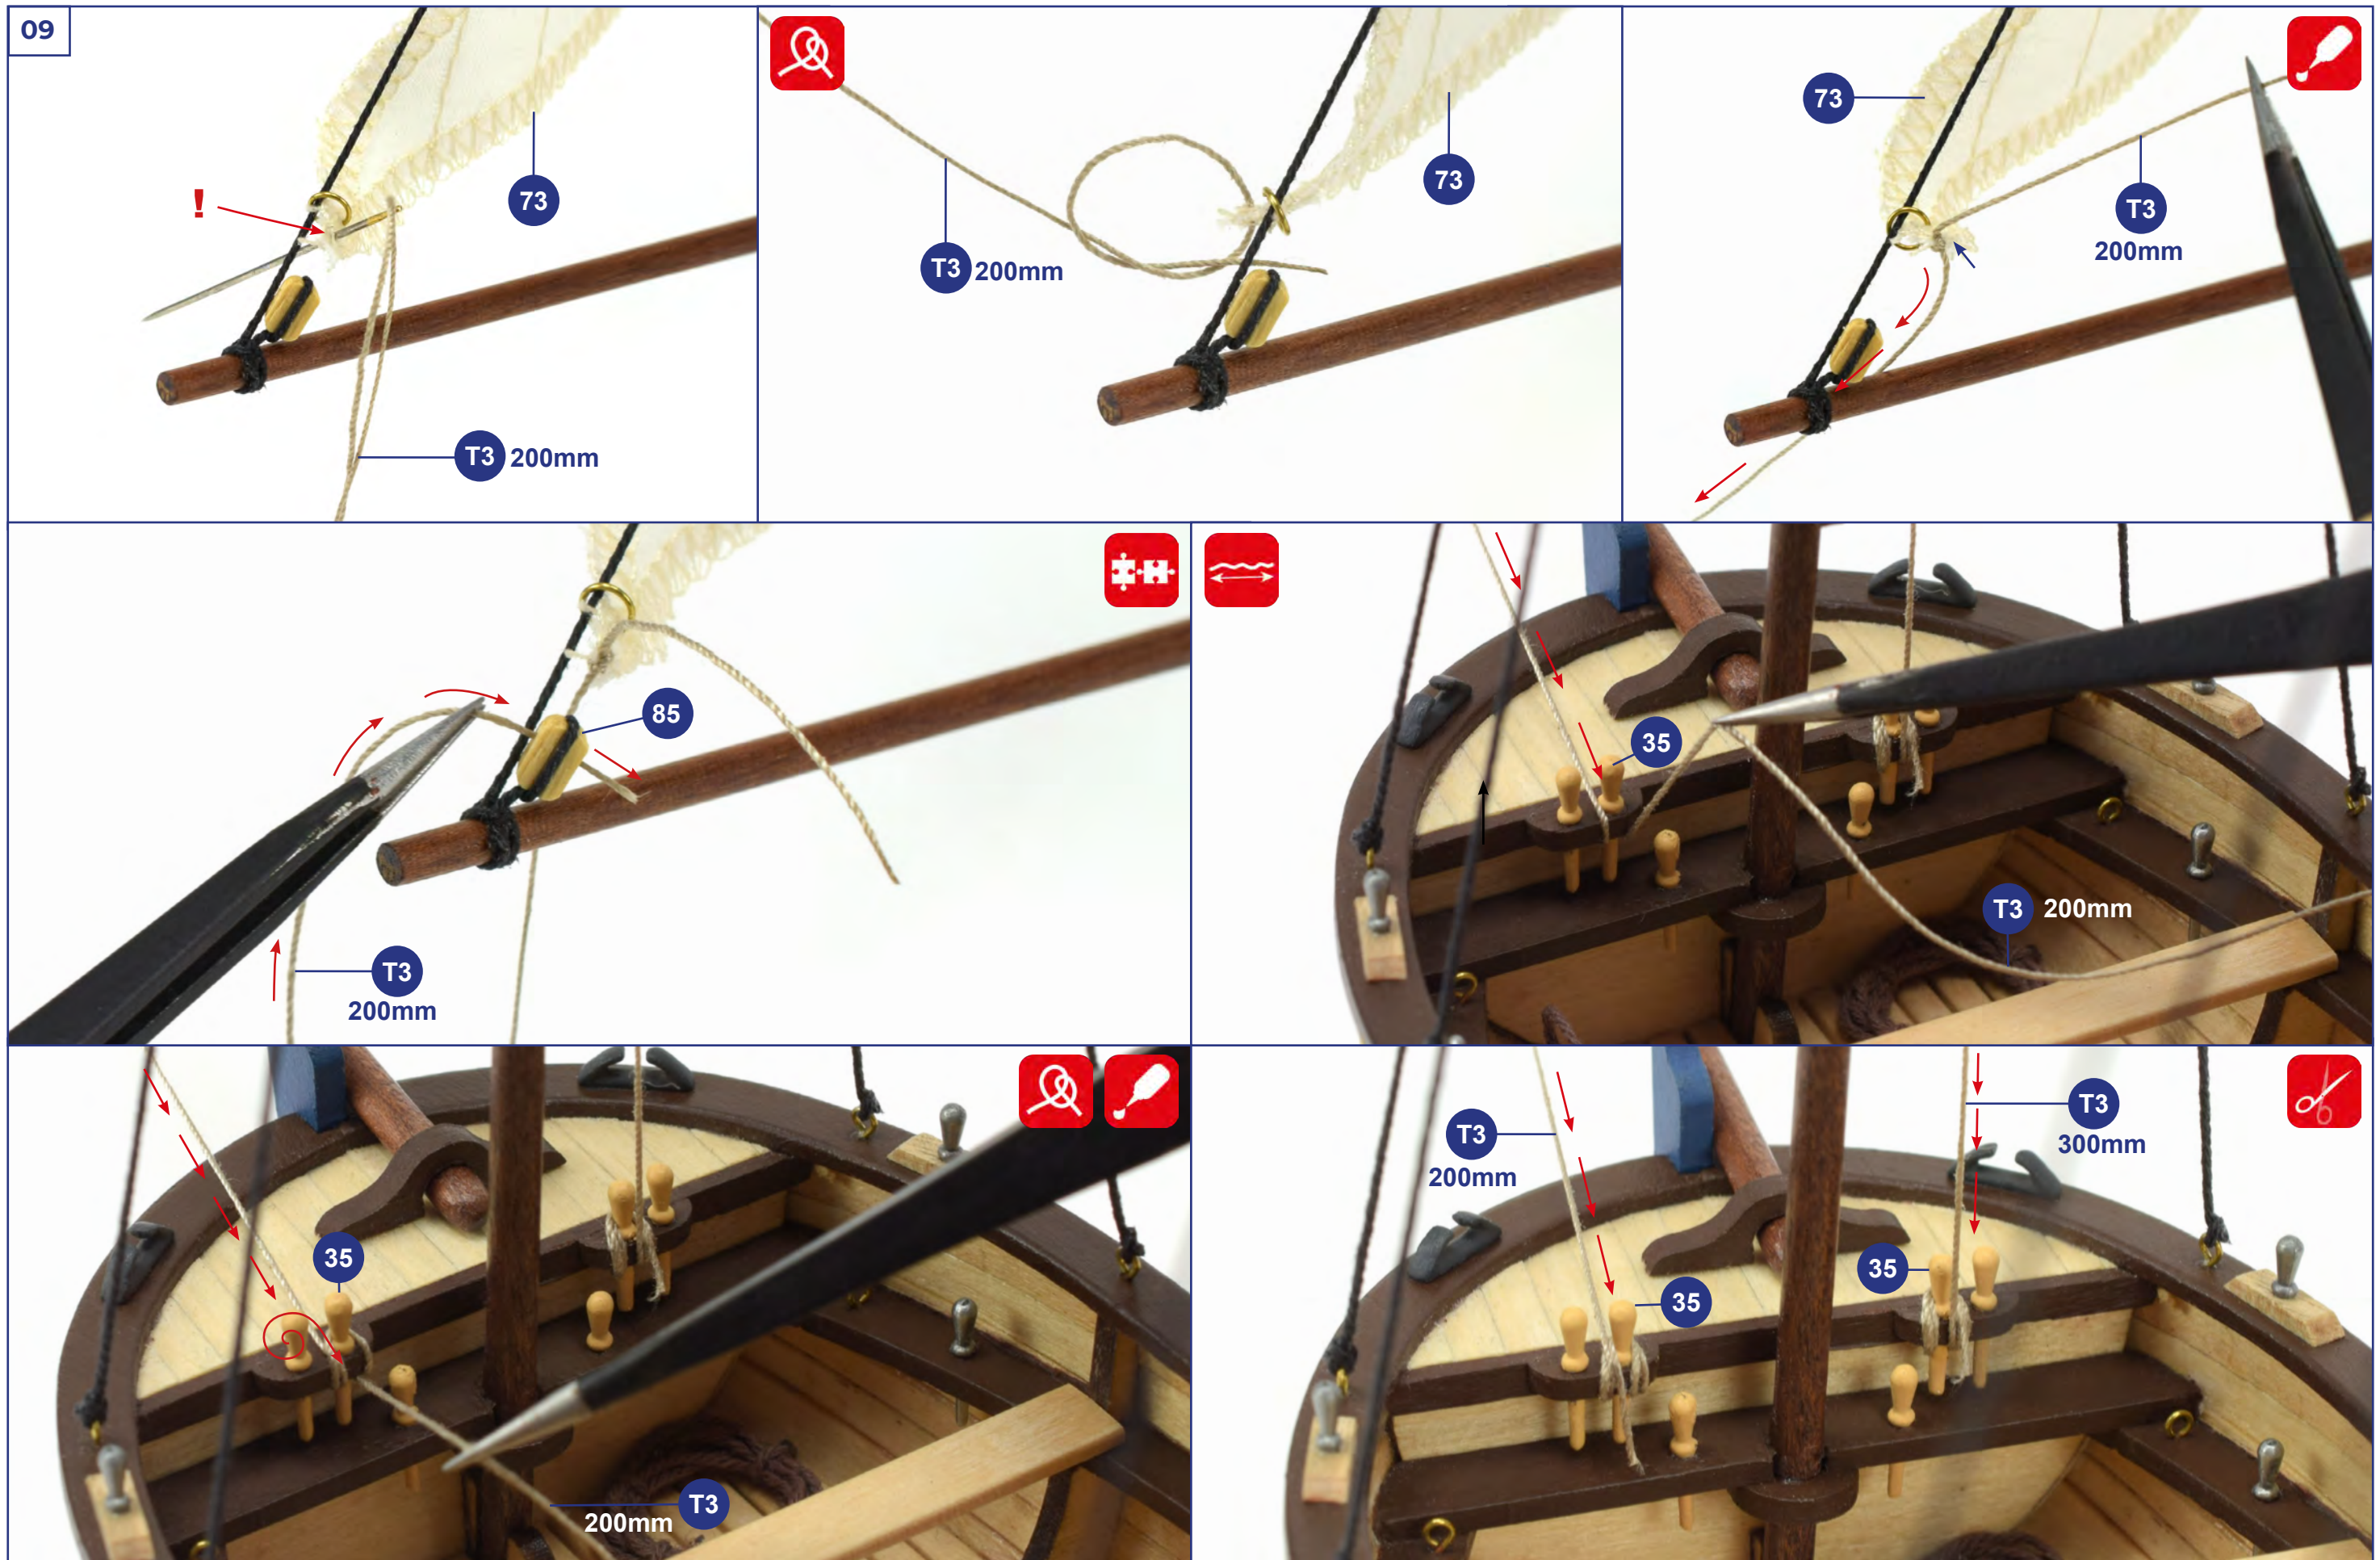

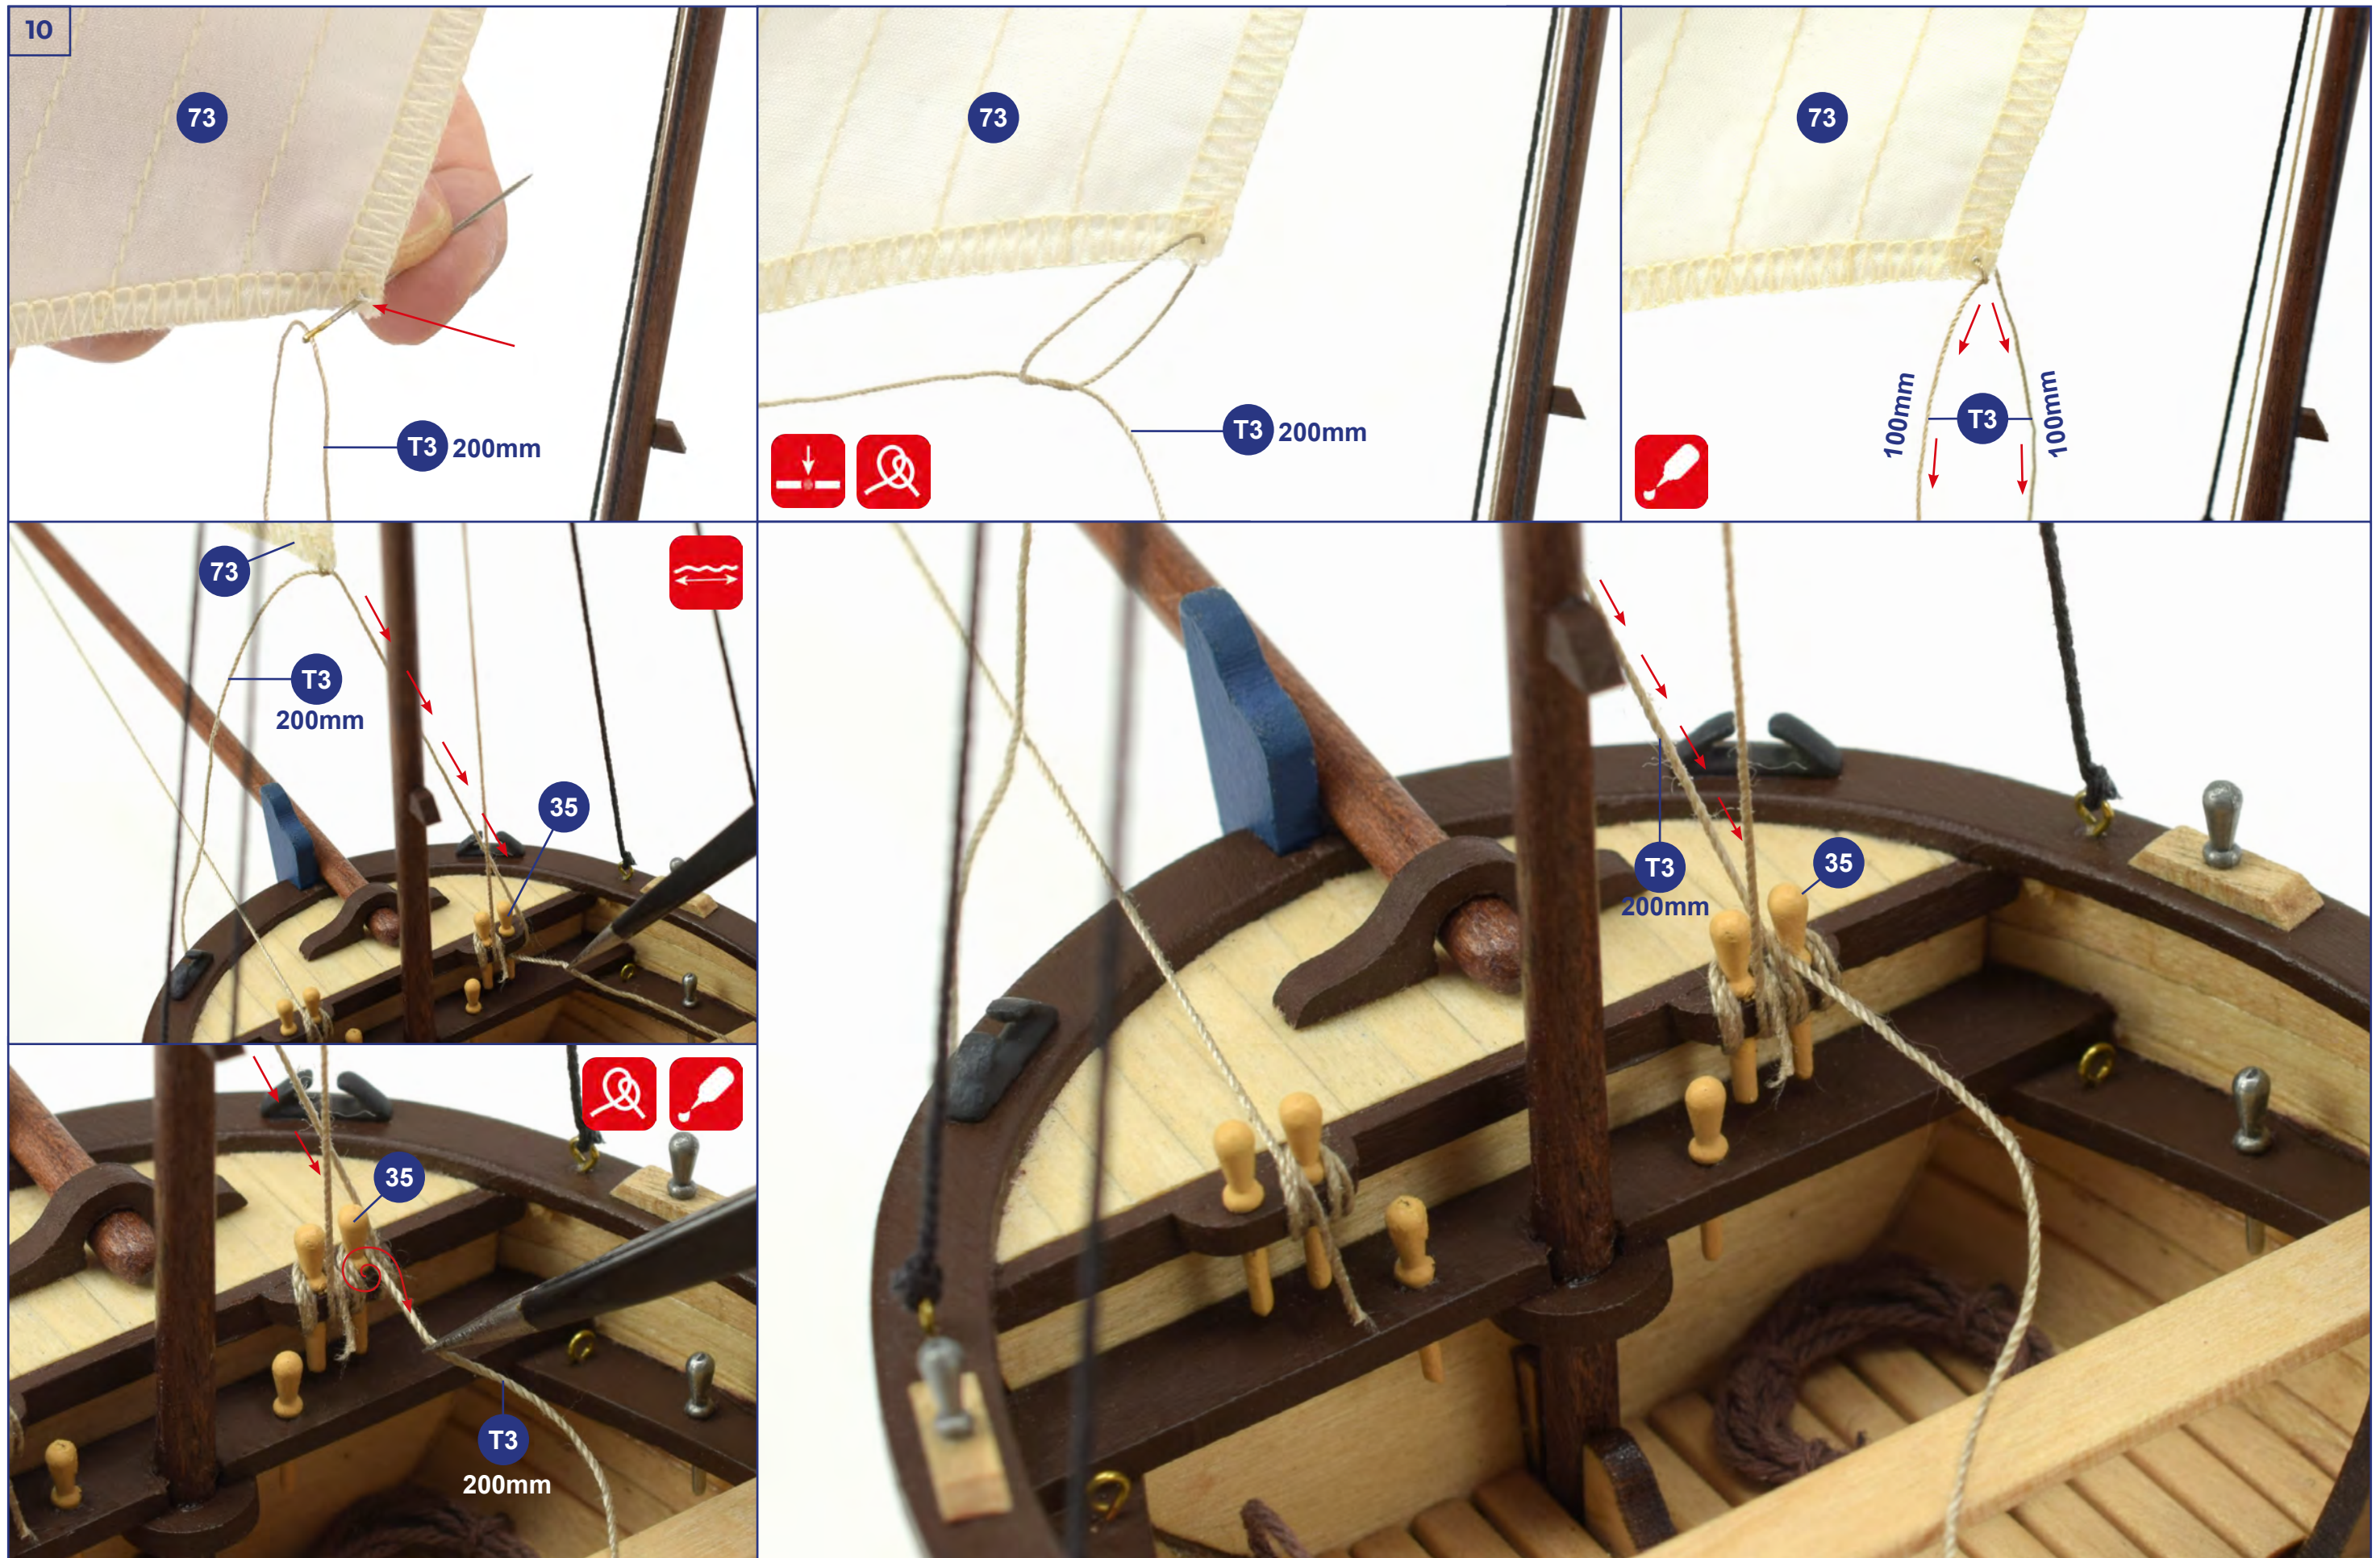

A close-up photograph showing the top edge of the sail patch, which has been stitched and glued. A red arrow points to the top edge. The right edge is labeled '73' in a blue circle.
